FOOD NETWORK

NEW SERIES/PRIMETIME

Kitchen Casino

Series Premiere: April 7, 2014

Hosted by Bill Rancic, Kitchen Casino ups the ante of cooking competitions, bringing together four talented chefs in a high-stakes game of chance that is all about skill, speed and adaptability. With one eye on the ticking clock, competitors have to out-cook and out-smart their competition in three casino-themed challenges - slots, poker and roulette -- for a chance to win a $30,000 jackpot. These accomplished chefs must make magic with whatever Lady Luck puts in front of them, and they must double-down on their skills or risk being 86'd. Place your bets! Produced by Jane Street for Food Network

America's Best Cook

Series Premiere: April 13, 2014

In this new series hosted by Ted Allen, four Food Network chefs, Cat Cora, Tyler Florence, Alex Guarnaschelli and Michael Symon, each representing a different region of the country, choose two home cooks to compete on their team and battle through a succession of difficult challenges. The coaches dedicate themselves to developing their team and mentoring their cooks, because if their cooks go home, so do they. Everything is on the line in the search to find America's Best Cook. Produced by Relativity Lifestyle for Food Network

Rewrapped

Series Premiere: April 21, 2014

New series, Rewrapped, challenges three chefs to recreate, as closely as possible, some of America's favorite guilty pleasures, and then invent an entirely new dish using the original treat as an ingredient. Hosted by Joey Fatone and led by head judge, Marc Summers, an expert panel of judges determines the winner based on taste, texture, and likeness to the original product. Along with bragging rights, the winner also receives a year's supply of that episode's well-known food. Produced by BSTV Entertainment for Food Network

American Festivals (wt)

Series Premiere: July 2014

Every year, dozens of food festivals are held across the U.S. From Maine to New Mexico, these uniquely American festivals draw huge, enthusiastic crowds. Some showcase foods from a specific region and are all about local pride; others simply feature food that's as American as apple pie. Join host, Anthony Anderson, as he travels to the most colorful and delicious festivals in America, meeting the amazing characters behind each one and tasting a variety of unique and delicious dishes along the way. Produced by Magnetic for Food Network

Boss Under Fire (wt)

Series Premiere: July 2014

The restaurant business is a cutthroat pressure cooker where every moment counts and failure is always right around the corner. With success rates at less than 50%, there is a wide range of reasons that can cause closures, but sometimes it is not the food, the location, or the employees. Sometimes it is the boss. Restaurants nominate their terrible bosses for a makeover and the owner must perform his employees' jobs to realize that success starts at the top. Produced by Eyeworks for Food Network

Game of Cones (wt)

Series Premiere: July 2014

In Game of Cones, ice cream connoisseurs compete to create the most unique and delectable ice cream-based desserts using a selection of mystery ingredients. It is up to the skilled competitors to use their wits and creativity to make an incredible ice cream treat using an array of seemingly incompatible flavors. After three heart-pounding elimination challenges, one of four aspiring ice cream makers will be left standing as victor of this Game of Cones. Produced by Intuitive Entertainment for Food Network

Undercover Critics

Series Premiere: July 2014

In this series, restaurant critics are armed with hidden cameras, looking to unveil the good, the bad and the ugly of established restaurants. Undercover Critics gives the owners a second chance to improve on their faults and flaws before any review is actually published. After visiting the restaurant, the Undercover Critics reveal themselves, letting the owner know about the visit and hand over the 'would-be/could-be' negative review. With a laundry list of things to fix, the owners do whatever it takes to turn a bad review into a great one before it hits the press. Produced by RelativityREAL for Food Network

The Big Tip

Series Premiere: August 2014

All across America there are hardworking and deserving waiters and waitresses who have been serving communities for years. Now, Rachael Ray is on a mission to give back to them. In each episode, Rachael travels to one town to meet three incredible and deserving people. Each of them will get a life-changing tip - but only one will get The Big Tip. Produced by Fly on the Wall for Food Network

American Diner Revival

Series Premiere: September 2014

Diners are an American institution, but they're struggling to stay alive. Join the host of American Diner Revival as he arrives in town with only three days to revive a cherished diner in desperate need of a makeover. He doesn't arrive with a construction team in tow, but instead is hitting the ground to connect with locals who have a personal connection to the diner and rally them to help makeover their community's own beloved diner. But this is an ambush, which means he has to gather all his intel undercover and figure out how to lure the owner away long enough to get the work done. One man is on a mission to prove that towns across America have the power to revive their own diners, they just don't know it yet! Produced by Bray Entertainment for Food Network

Diner Death Match (wt)Series Premiere: September 2014

Diner Death Match features four competitive cooks from North America's best diners, gastropubs and food trucks as they go head-to-head in a series of culinary challenges. To win they will have to out-cook each other in three short-order classic diner challenges: breakfast, lunch, and dinner. After each round, one competitor is eliminated, and the last cook standing walks away with a cash prize. Produced by Proper TV for Food Network

Food Truck Face OffSeries Premiere: September 2014

Food Truck Face Off, hosted by Jesse Palmer, pits two teams against one another to win the ultimate prize - a customized food truck for one year. After presenting their unique concept to an expert panel of judges, two teams are chosen to face off in a truck-on-truck showdown. In the end, the team that earns the most profit emerges victorious. Produced by Peace Point Productions for Food Network

New Food Challenge Show (wt)Series Premiere: September 2014

Your favorite competitive food series returns with surprising twists and bigger builds! In each standalone episode, four teams of competitors will bake, cook and build their way out of unique culinary challenges. From giant wedding cakes to life-like sugar sculptures to man-sized pastries, the creations will blow you away until one competitor reigns supreme. Produced by Mission Control for Food Network

Burnt (wt)Series Premiere: October 2014

Burnt is a competition that combines strategy, head-to-head cook-offs, and a big prize for the winning chef. The objective in each episode is to navigate through four rounds of one-on-one chef challenges using cunning and culinary skills to claim the cash prize of up to $20,000. At the heart of the show is the guiding principle that one chef will be in control of who plays or sits out the series of chef vs. chef eliminations, with each round providing a cumulative cash prize. Competitors must conquer all challenges laid before them or face the consequence of getting Burnt. Produced by Our House Media for Food Network

Rapid Fire Restaurant (wt)Series Premiere: October 2014

Go behind the scenes with restaurateur hopefuls as they look to purchase and launch their first restaurant ever. The catch? They have absolutely no idea what they're doing! Hosted by brothers Chad Rosenthal (Food Network Star Season 9 competitor) and Reid Rosenthal, each episode will feature a unique group of individuals with a dollar and a dream who are looking to open their first restaurant. While each aspirant has basic broad ideas on what they're looking to do, they're ill-informed on the finer points of restaurant realty, decoration, marketing, business, and of course, food. That's where Reid and Chad come in. Reid is an award-winning realtor who is unparalleled in the hospitality space, while his brother Chad is a self-made restaurateur. Together, they are the ultimate yin and yang of the restaurant industry. Produced by Matador for Food Network

Great Holiday Bake-Off (wt)Series Premiere: November 2014

The search is on to find the greatest holiday baker of all as eight amateur bakers enter the "Holiday Kitchen." More than anything, these competitors love to bake, but in order to survive week-to-week each must demonstrate that their baking skills are broad enough to carry them into the finale where one will become the first Great Holiday Bake-Off "Grand Champion." From cookie exchanges, to holiday pies, to yule logs and gingerbread houses, these bakers will show off their skills, their favorite family recipes and also their ability to improvise sweets challenge after challenge. This bake-off is the most delicious and sweetest way to celebrate the holiday season. Produced by

Armed with skill and ingenuity, chefs race against the clock to turn mystery ingredients into an extraordinary three-course meal. Course by course, the chefs will be chopped from the competition until only one remains. There is $10,000 on the line and everybody wants to win, but only one will survive the chopping block. Produced by Paperny Entertainment for Food Network

Guy's Grocery Games

Season Two Premiere: May 11, 2014

Four talented chefs compete in supermarket-themed cooking challenges as they must navigate their way through the aisles, adhering to "real-world" obstacles doled out by host Guy Fieri. Whether it is shopping on a budget, substituting out-of-stock ingredients or grabbing groceries at closing time, the contenders have to shop, prepare, and plate three different dishes using whatever they can pull off the shelves. Ultimately, the food does the talking, as one-by-one the losing chefs "check out," with the last chef standing going on a shopping spree of a lifetime worth up to $20,000! Produced by Relativity Lifestyle Television for Food Network

Cutthroat Kitchen

Season Four Premiere: June 2014

Cooking skills are not enough to win in Food Network's Cutthroat Kitchen. In this competition series, chefs must also be crafty, clever and willing to sabotage their opponents. Led by Alton Brown as the kitchen's cunning provocateur, this game features a briefcase filled with $100,000 in cash, four competitors, three rounds of cooking and auctions where chefs bid on items to help themselves or hinder their opponents. Produced by Embassy Row for Food Network

Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives

Season Twenty Premiere: June 2014

Host Guy Fieri takes a cross-country road trip to visit some of America's classic "greasy spoon" restaurants that have been doing it right for decades. These days they are booming again - being run by a whole new generation of owners, and catering delicious homemade food to fans young and old alike. It might be a shack on the side of the highway in Tarpley, Texas or a sports bar in Vegas famous for stromboli, but across the board, these are the kind of places that make America great. Produced by Citizen Pictures for Food Network

Food Network Star

Season Ten Premiere: June 2014

Culinary superstars Alton Brown, Giada De Laurentiis and Bobby Flay are all back to host the new season. An audience vote will again determine who possesses the personality and kitchen chops to be the next Food Network Star. Produced by Triage for Food Network

Restaurant Stakeout

Season Five Premiere: June 2014

New York restaurateur Willie Degel is back for the fifth season of the hidden camera series Restaurant Stakeout. Using his infamous and covert surveillance tactics, Willie shows struggling restaurant owners what really happens when their employees think no one is watching. Willie has built his success on his "customer is king" philosophy, which remains the key to saving restaurants around the country from closing their doors. From lazy, neglectful managers to feisty, rude waitstaff Willie needs to whip these employees into shape before their appalling customer service drives business away for good. Produced by Relativity REAL for Food Network

Chopped

Season Twenty-One Premiere: July 2014

Hosted by Ted Allen, this culinary competition show is all about skill, speed and ingenuity. Four challengers compete before a panel of three expert judges and take everyday items and turn them into an extraordinary three-course meal. After each course, a contestant gets "chopped" until the last competitor left standing claims victory. Each week, a rotating panel of culinary elite judges will decide whose dishes shine the brightest and whose dish is on the chopping block! Produced by Notional for Food Network

Restaurant: Impossible

Season Nine Premiere: July 2014

Turning around a failing restaurant is a daunting challenge under the best of circumstances. Attempting to do it in just two days with only $10,000 may be impossible, but Chef Robert Irvine takes on the challenge. With a little ingenuity and a lot of muscle to rescue these desperate places from complete collapse, one man, in two days, with just $10,000, turns the tide of a failing restaurant and paves the road to a successful future. Produced by Shooters/Marc Summers for Food Network

The Great Food Truck Race

Season Five Premiere: August 2014

The Great Food Truck Race's fifth outing will have more drama, more twists, more strategy, but most of all, more dreams. Hosted by Tyler Florence, this season eight teams of people hoping to own their own truck will have their dream truck handed to them before they race from city to city trying to prove they have what it takes to own and operate a successful food truck, and the winning team will get to keep their truck and immediately launch their food empire. Produced by RelativityREAL for Food Network

Road Trip with G. Garvin

Season Three Premiere: May 21, 2014

Southern food is exploding all over the country and acclaimed cookbook author and James Beard-nominated host, Chef Gerry Garvin, aka 'G.', sets out on a road trip to find the best places serving it up Southern style. Travelling to Hawaii, Miami and many more, G. checks out how Southern-inspired cuisine is done across the country. From traditional ethnic food and urban farms to BBQ pit masters extraordinaire, G. Garvin leaves no stone unturned in his quest to find the hottest, most delicious spots. Produced by PowerHouse for Cooking Channel

Man Fire Food

Season Three Premiere: June 2014

Roger Mooking explores cooking at its most basic as he features the cooks who take the fundamental formula of fire and food to make delicious culinary creations. Along the way, he samples fire-cooked favorites from local joints on back roads and byways from coast to coast. Produced by Irene Wong for Cooking Channel

Best in Chow

Season Two Premiere: July 2014

In each episode of returning series, Best in Chow, host Cris Nannarone, a veteran road warrior and standup comedian, scours restaurants, diners, food trucks and everything in between to find the best burgers, pizzas and tacos. It's a quest to find the top three contenders who will ultimately go to battle. Nannarone learns their trade secrets and discovers if their dish has what it takes to win the war. Produced by Pyramid Productions for Cooking Channel

Chuck's Eat the Street

Season Three Premiere: July 2014

Every city has one - a single street where block after block, restaurant after restaurant, meal after meal, you can experience a magical, mouthwatering tour through cultures and cuisines of every conceivable variety. Chuck

Hughes takes a tour of America's great food streets, tasting his way through cities and learning about the people and history that have made these flavors special. Produced by AMS for Cooking Channel

Donut Showdown

Season Two Premiere: July 2014

Donut Showdown takes the donut to epicurean heights with an exciting competition between some of the best donut makers in the country. Each episode pits three donut makers against each other in a series of challenges, but only one can walk away with the $10,000 prize. Produced by Architect Films for Cooking Channel

Eat St.

Season Five Premiere: July 2014

Hosted by James Cunningham, Eat St. is a lip-smacking celebration of North America's tastiest, messiest, and most irresistible street food. From Tijuana-style tacos served out of an Airstream trailer to classic dogs with all the fixin's and sirloin burgers slathered in bacon jam, food cart fare is the hottest culinary trend around. The stars of the show are the vendors - food mavericks with creative takes on mobile meals and inspiring stories. Seeking out the very best curbside eats all over North America, Eat St. is a grease-stained roadmap to the ultimate street food experience. Produced by Paperny for Cooking Channel

My Grandmother's Ravioli

Season Three Premiere: August 2014

Mo Rocca learns treasured family recipes and a lot more, from grandparents across the country in My Grandmother's Ravioli. While he was growing up, Mo's grandmother prepared sumptuous Sunday dinners for the family, with "Momma's" ravioli as the main event. Although he could never forget those meals, Mo never learned her recipes. Now he's doing the next best thing: visiting other people's grandmothers and grandfathers who lovingly, and patiently, teach Mo traditional specialties. In addition to making food that will take viewers back to their childhood, the grandparents share their inspiring personal stories and funny family anecdotes in each episode. Produced by CBS Eye Too Productions for Cooking Channel

Restaurant Redemption

Season Two Premiere: October 2014

Ching-He Huang changes the face of Asian cuisine in America one menu at a time in Restaurant Redemption. Ching travels the country to help owners of struggling Asian restaurants revitalize their menus by giving them new inspiration and direction to turn their businesses around. From updating tired, dated menus to renovating an establishment's décor, Ching uses her Asian heritage and culinary expertise to save restaurant owners from financial collapse. Produced by Lion TV for Cooking Channel

Unique Sweets

Season Five Premiere: October 2014

Unique Sweets is an insider's peek into innovative eateries across America that are creating the most unique and exciting desserts today. These sweet spots cover the gamut: restaurants with revolutionary pastry chefs; candy shops inventing eye-popping confections; chocolate boutiques with wild artisanal flavors; and bakeries producing one-of-a-kind pastries, cakes and cookies in the middle of the night. Wherever there are gooey, crunchy, sticky and sweet treats that you won't find anywhere else, Unique Sweets will take you there. Produced by Irene Wong for Cooking Channel

Emeril's Florida

Season Three Premiere: January 2015

Chef Emeril Lagasse digs deep into the rich cuisine, stunning scenery and diverse culture of the Sunshine State in Cooking Channel's returning series Emeril's Florida. Throughout the season, Emeril travels from the Atlantic to the Gulf to parts in between in his quest to discover the best local cuisine as well as the stories and people behind them.

From farm-to-table purveyors in Orlando to the laid-back beach bars, grills and restaurants along Florida's coasts, Emeril highlights the unique lifestyle and varied cuisines that make the state a magnet for travelers from near and far. Produced by MAT Media, LLC.

SPECIALS

Taco Trip

Premiere: April 27, 2014

Along the way, Aarón will find inspiration for his own recipes, and just might do some cooking. After all, to Aarón, finding the ultimate tacos means making tacos, not just eating them! Produced by High Noon Entertainment for Cooking Channel

The Fixer with Chef Tino

Premiere: May 5, 2014

Saving a failing family restaurant from bankruptcy is a tough challenge for anyone. Luckily, Chef Tino, also known as the "The Fixer," is on the case! With his unique expertise he helps struggling restaurants improve their menu, their look and ultimately, their bottom line. Tino is determined to help family run kitchens discover that turning out great food can also turn a big profit, and help them remember why working with your family in this business is the best gig in town. Produced by Engel Entertainment for Cooking Channel

Pizza Masters

Premiere: May 9, 2014

Fran Garcia and Sal Basille, owners of Artichoke Pizza, are cousins and best friends. They've mastered their own unique take on pizza, so now they are embarking on a road trip to find the best pizza around the country with some fun adventures along the way! Produced by Follow Productions for Cooking Channel

Holy & Hungry (wt)

Premiere: May 2014

Along every road, in little towns and big cities, there are amazing places and delicious food, cooked with love and the love of God, by people of faith. Host M.C. Hammer will visit all these hidden places to meet the funny, fascinating, and devoted people who live there, while looking for a taste, a recipe, and maybe even a prayer with people all over the country who are Holy and Hungry. Produced by Loud TV for Cooking Channel

Junk Food Flip

Premiere: July 2014

Junk Food Flip features a team of two chefs seeking out the country's favorite guilty pleasure foods and doing their best to recreate the delicious item in a healthier way. The team then goes head-to-head against the original to see which version customers enjoy the most. Produced by Lion TV for Cooking Channel
