

Uplifting entertainment continues to be the focus as GMC TV unveiled its most ambitious Upfront programming slate in the network's eight-year history -- 66 originals, including GMC world premiere movies, GMC world premiere series and GMC world premiere stage plays. In addition, the network announced it will accelerate its name change to UP to June 1 instead of September 1. Here's a look at what's coming up in 2013.

New series

Family Addition with Leigh Anne Tuohy, which debuts June 2013, will follow the lives of families who have been fostering children and are on the verge of adopting one or more of them.

Bulloch Family Ranch, which debuts in July 2013, focuses on the lives of Julie and Rusty Bulloch and their brood of 25 kids. Two are biological. The rest are teens, who have been dealt a difficult hand in life, but are trying to get on the right track.

Miracle Hunters, an hour-long special investigative show, explores the mysterious world of unexplained events, in a time when people desperately want to believe in miracles.

Heartland, Season 4, will premiere in June 2013 with 16 new episodes.

GMC world premiere movies include Finding Normal, The Perfect Summer, Jimmy, In the Meantime, Teachers, Guess Who's Coming to Christmas and Sliver Bells.

Two GMC world premiere stage plays, What Would You Do for Love and Love Will Find a Way.

Other highlights on GMC's slate include the annual Dove Awards music special in October 2013, a themed slate of Bible movies, and other specially-selected holiday entertainment.
