Asha McKenzie is an Emmy nominated and Associated Press Award-Winning Journalist. She has been reporting up and down New York State for 7 years. Currently, she is an anchor and reporter at News 12 and has been since 2016.

Asha graduated from Montclair State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree. She was nominated for a 2019 Emmy Award for her half-hour special titled "Justice for Junior: Spirit of the Streets."

Before coming to News 12, Asha was an Anchor and Reporter at WENY News in Elmira, New York. While in the Southern Tier region, Asha won two first place New York Associated Press Awards for 'General Excellence in Reporting' and 'Best Interview.'

Asha's passion is to bring about change through her work and tell the stories of those who feel voiceless. She enjoys mentoring youth and encouraging people to follow their dreams.